

Head & Neck Case Review – Submission Template

Submitters for Head & Neck Case Reviews are encouraged to consider submission for the “Images in Pathology” section of the Head & Neck Pathology Journal:

Submissions to this section illustrate classic examples of common entities with clinical photographs, radiographic imaging, intraoperative photographs, gross pathology images, cytology, classic histology, and any pertinent supporting studies (histochemical, immunohistochemical, immunofluorescence, molecular, genetic and/or ultrastructural). The text includes a brief summary of clinical and histopathologic findings and potential differential diagnostic considerations clinically or pathologically. On occasion, we may accept a classic presentation of a very rare entity if these criteria are fulfilled.

The text should be approximately 250-500 words, appropriate legends for the figures shown and 3-5 pertinent references.

If you would like to submit to Images, please follow this link to the Journal. During the submission process, choose the Collection “Selected Images of the North American Society of Head and Neck Pathology”. If accepted, your case will be published as a PubMed-indexed Image in the Journal. A link to the published article will also be posted on the NASHNP website and Twitter/X.
